Quiz It's like a mini mystery to solve while we grab a cup of tea at break time – how much am I like this? How much do I know about that? What will my score be?

Why are Quizzes Valuable in Education?

Not only are quizzes fun for students, but they are also a sneaky form of learning as they don't feel like a traditional activity. Quizzes can help your students practice existing knowledge while stimulating interest in learning about new subject matter.

Quizzes are fun

- Simple as that – they are fun. We all know that if learning is fun, we learn better.

Collaboration in small groups

- In groups, students can brainstorm to help each other.

Improving interpersonal relationships

- Quizzes teach interpersonal skills, as most competitive quizzing is conducted for teams of two or more and teamwork is the only way to success. It promotes the act of sharing knowledge among kids

Quizzes Help Children to Concentrate

- When you're playing a quiz you have to keep your mind on what you are doing. This means that quizzes do help children concentrate. Reading from textbooks often fails to grab our attention. The mind wanders and information is not taken in

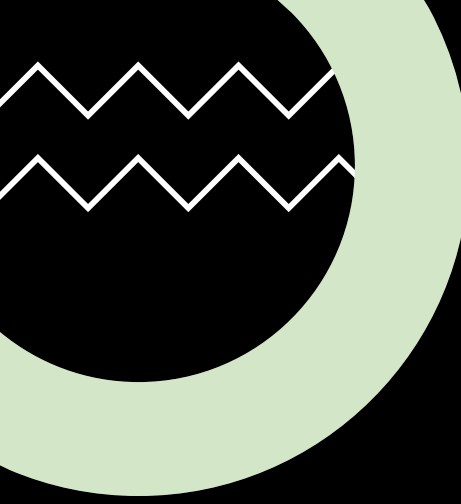

Quizzes raise confidence

Can Quizzes Prepare Children for Competitive Exams?

- Few of us enjoy exams but, like it or not, they're here to stay. To prepare for exams it's good to test yourself on the subject. The more students play quizzes the better equipped they become for quickly recalling the information required to answer examination questions
