

From the Editors' Desk

Ms. Geetha Venkataramu, Mrs. Chitra Kesari,
Mrs. Sujatha Jagadish., Mrs. Reshma Praveen

Greetings to all from ANPS family. It is a source of sheer happiness to bring our second issue of second volume of our news letter ANPS FLAIR 2015-16. Events which have taken place have exhibited the great talent and skills of our students which we proudly present in our newsletter.

The Charisma and the vibrance displayed by our students have been captured in this issue. We have attempted to capture a glimpse of their activities from Nov 15 to Mar 16. We invite you to sit back and enjoy this issue which is a reflection of our students' talents. Feedback from parents is welcome for improvement.

What is wrong?

The increased amount of exposure to media and technology has made today's children very mechanical and competitive. In this process they are skipping their mental stages of development. They are constantly grilled by their parents, school, peers and technology. Mostly they stand up to this pressure but some of them cannot. The present generation children always impress me with their never ending talents and qualities. But the other side of the coin is not so bright.

Now a days, Moral Education or Value Education is included in the curriculum of the school students in ICSE or CBSE or any other State Board syllabus. This was not so thirty to forty years ago when we have studied in schools. Still the students of those days inculcated good values. But even after formal teaching of value education with the help of several moral science books of different publishers, students are actually not growing up with right values. The word "respect" for others is missing in the children. Neither they respect their parents at home nor in school their teachers or any elders.

Values like sympathy is rarely found among the children. Rather they are becoming violent as early as in their teens. I am talking about the children of USA and UK where they have displayed a poor mental health. Teen violence has become a serious problem throughout the world.

I have noticed how children enjoy when any of their fellow friends is hurt due to a sudden fall. They do not come forward to help others. The students lack the feeling of sympathy and willingness to help others.

The School syllabus also stresses on life skills to be given to the students in the schools. But actually they are not able to face life skillfully. The significant form of violence which is found in the children is self hurt and suicide. The reason behind this is the so called stress in their studies or any kind of reprimand by their teachers in school. Students try to find out the solutions for their problem in suicide or escaping from the house.

Now the question is, what is wrong? No doubt the students of today undergo a lot of competitions in every field. They should know that failure in these competitions is not the end. When God closes one window the other window is opened. Opportunity knocks at their doors. Students should avail these opportunities and emerge as victors.

Value education cannot be given through reading of books. It has to be practised and demonstrated always in front of them either in the family or in the school. Life skill cannot be taught by following any syllabus. Present days children lack the emotional support of their parents. Thus it is the need of the hour to prepare an emotional arena where all the stakeholders of the schools, the parents, the teachers, the students can share their emotions and make the lives much meaningful for the younger generation. Let us join our hands together to build strong citizens of the nation.

Principal Sikkha Ray Chaudhuri guided the students with seven truths to be followed by them. School Vice-Chairman Rajab Kasar handed over the mementos to the students and blessed them.

FUTURE

My Kite

In the day light,
I was flying a Kite,
I brought it from a big fair,
And lavish it with much care.
When it flies in the sky,
Its size become tiny.
It cuts all other kites.
It flies at a height.
My kite is the best,
I love my kite a lot.

Who is he !

A man grows crops on the fields,
Help us by giving food.
We see him in the village,
He works hard for us.
So we should respect and help him.
He will also take good care of his family and farm.
But who is he?
I know ! he is Farmer

The light Tower

In the middle of the blue ocean lies a tall tower
The big tomb on the top does it cover,
It can regulate abn ship's power,
When anyone goes near to its waves
they get a good shower
There lies the tall tower

The Fountain

Into the sunshine,
Full of light,
Leaping and flashing
From morn till night

Into the moonlight,
Whiter than snow,
Playing so flower like
When the winds blow !

Into the starlight,
Rushing in spray,
Happy at mid-night
Happy by day

Plant Life

A plant will grow from a tiny seed,
Some water and sun is all you need.

First the roots grown underground,
They suck up minerals from all around.

Then comes stems, some tall, some stout,
And next the branches spread about.
Leaves grow in all shapes and sizes,
Watch this new life as it rises.

Flowers bloom from birds on stems,
They are as pretty as precious gems.
Some plants give us juicy fruits,
Some have vegetable at the root.

New seeds travel to and fro,
By wind and water, on the go.

A teacher for all Seasons

A Teacher is like spring,
Who nurtures new green sprouts,
Encourages and leads them,
Whenever they have doubts.

A Teacher is like summer,
Whose sunny temperament,
Makes studying a pleasure,
Preventing discontent.

A Teacher is like winter,
While it is showing hard outside,
Keeping students comfortable,
As a warm and helpful guide.

The story of the desert

When God first created the world, there was no Desert. The whole world was filled with fertile lands, full of beautiful gardens. God created man in order to maintain the world. He said to man "every time you commit a sin, there will be peck of sand falling on the ground". Man thought, "What harm will a peck of sand do?, Let me live as I please". He started committing wicked sins and pecks of sand started falling on the ground, still man continued sinning. The effect is that today there are many deserts around us.

The Hungry Mountain

Once upon a time there was a village . Which was ruled by a young King who thought old people were useless. So, he made a rule the people who are above 60 years should go to the mountain. In that village there lived a young man called Arjuna, his mother turned 61 years. One day, she came to Arjuna and told son, Now I'm 61 years, so please take me to the hungry mountain. After sometime Arjuna agreed sorrowfully. His mother could not walk as she was old so Arjuna carried his mother on his back. While going his mother broke twigs of trees. So, he asked his mother why are you doing this? She told because it is dark now, this will help you to your way back home. Arjuna starts crying. Mother, I'll not leave to die over here , please come back with me. They both returned home secretly at night when the whole village was fast asleep. Arjuna dug under his house and made a secret house and kept it as a secret. One day suddenly a overlord attacked the village and won. He bribed the King of the village, if you could not answer my riddle, I'll destroy the village. The riddle was - Take a bundle of ropes, burn it into ashes and bring it to me properly. No one could answer it in the village. One day while going home Arjuna heard about the riddle. He ran to his mother and told about it. His mother told take a bundle of ropes, soak it sea water and burn it and can take it to the King properly. He rushed to the King and showed the answer was happy and gave him lot of money.

SUM UP 2015-2016

The re-opening of school was exiting. New teachers, class rooms, class mates were a lot of fun. The best part of the year was that we had cultural events, with studies which was a lot of fun.

First, we had our 'Annual Day' in July. We displayed many types of dances, acts and concluded with a song. Next, we celebrated the 'Independence Day' which was totally different from all the past years. It was incredible and all students enjoyed. All four houses represented different States of India. We also had an 'Annual Sports meet' in December. This time we had not only competitions but also displays and band set which played tunes for the march-past. This was a memorable moment too. On January 26th that is the Republic Day, we had an 'Open House Exhibition' where students showed their talents through models of different subjects.

Each subject was given a room full of models, related to that subject. Groups were made making the models and the models were made in class.

Students were made volunteers for different subjects, where they had to explain about the models to the parents. This was a great experience and encouraged us to speak in front of audience freely without any hesitation. The year was filled with co-curricular activities which developed the habit of participation in students. The competitions were sometimes to be in individuals – mostly in groups, which developed the team spirit and team work. Everyday assemblies were conducted where an informative thought and news were read out daily which was sometimes included with teachers or students talk as well as quizzes. The year was great and I thank my Principal mam, teachers and classmates for making the year an eventful one.
